

Biography

307BW/STARBASE Louisiana

Cassy Miller, Program Instructor

Cassy Miller is an instructor at the Department of Defense STARBASE program at Barksdale Air Force Base in Louisiana. Cassy’s duties involve teaching rigorous STEM lessons that are aligned with the national Common Core standards and the Next Generation Science Standards. As a STARBASE instructor, Cassy also provides support to the other classroom instructors during lessons, helping prepare materials for each lesson. Cassy has been extremely helpful with her advanced knowledge of technology and has helped design the iMovie for school graduations.

Miss Miller was born in Durango, CO. Her family moved to Loveland, CO where she lived from the age of two until she moved to Bossier City after graduating from University of Northern Colorado.

Education

2013 Masters of Education; University of Northern Colorado

2012 Bachelors of Science; Colorado State University

